Your Last Issue If Dues Unpaid

National dues--at current rates until March 31--must be paid before the next issue is mailed if you are to continue to receive The Pioneer.

The 1982 fee is $10 until the end of this month, when it will increase to $15. The deadline was extended from March 1st to the end of the month because of an error in the January-February issue.

Mailing date for the May-June issue is approximately May 1st. National dues may be paid directly to national headquarters, or with local chapter dues, to be forwarded by chapter officers.

Subscriptions to The Pioneer are free to current SUP members, whether affiliated with local chapters or "at large." Individual subscriptions to nonmembers may be purchased for $7.50 per year.

SUP History Planned to Mark 50 Years

by E. Kay Kirkham
Historian

In 1983, we are to celebrate the fiftieth year, the golden jubilee year, in the organization of the National Society, Sons of Utah Pioneers. Plans are now being made to make this a special year in the history of our organization.

Among other events in this special year will be the publication of a history of the organization from its beginning to the present. Some years ago, a brief history was written, but we are to take advantage of the first fifty years of the organization to include not only a written history but photographs and other items of interest.

The importance of such a publication cannot be overestimated. All to soon important events of the past will fade beyond recall unless they are published and shared with all members of the organization present and future.

We wish to honor those persons and chapters that have made this an enduring organization by their generosity and loyalty. Therefore, the book honoring the first fifty years of our worthy organization will include brief biographical sketches of our leaders of the past and the present.

This published volume is to include a formal history of the organization, its charter and charter changes and by-laws. There will be a special listing of the civic projects sponsored by the organization in the past. Outstanding yearly encampments will be noted and a number of pictures will be included.

In particular, we will need your help to provide a brief history of each chapter from its beginning, to include a list of the charter members, as well as a listing of the officers for 1982-1983.

We will need your assistance on this project. A committee is to be named and we ask that each chapter take the responsibility of seeing that its history is not left out of this important publication.

A Project Each Year For Each SUP Chapter

During one of my LDS missions, a companion repeated in sermon the oft-sung words, "Sacrifice brings forth the blessings of heaven," with the assertion that this "modern scripture" came from the Doctrine and Covenants and was "a vital element of Mormon faith."

Although he was wrong about the source of the quotation (it comes from the hymn, "Praise to the Man"), he was right about its importance to Mormon faith. Inherent in all Mormon activity is a substantial element of personal sacrifice. In fact, a firm commitment to the personal sacrifice of our time, talents and means is one of the choice legacies derived from our pioneer forbears. They gave so much more than they kept!

Why? Because it was a specific, divine commandment to their generation — and to ours — to "...be anxiously engaged in a good cause, and do many things of [your] own free will..." D&C 58:27.

We Sons of Utah Pioneers should be doing many good things to preserve our valuable heritage. Each year each chapter should identify and complete one meaningful memorialization project. There are so many that should be completed. For examples, there are no memorials, markers or plaques commemorating any of the following:

1. Perpetual Emigration Fund, that unique pioneer agency that provided the means for so many of our forbears to become Utah pioneers.

2. Parley's Way, the route that most of our Utah pioneers and other immigrants to the West used to enter the Salt Lake Valley after 1850.

3. Salt Lake Tithing Yard, symbolic of the great tithing principle that undergirded so much of the development of Utah.

4. Public Works Department, with headquarters located on the northeast corner of the Temple

Block. This pioneer enterprise employed newly-arrived immigrants in the construction of the Council House (1855), Old Tabernacle (1851-52), Social Hall (1852), Endowment House (1855), Tithing Store and Storehouse (1850-52), commencement of the Salt Lake Temple and walls around the Temple Block, University of Deseret and Salt Lake City - the latter involving nearly eight miles of twelve foot high mud wall.

5. Replacement of the Pioneer Trail Markers, a project deserving the coordinated efforts of several chapters to replace the original bronze trail markers that have been stolen or destroyed by vicious vandals, with new anodized aluminum plaques.

6. Mormon Railroading, not only one of the unique chapters in the history of American railroading (railroad construction without government subsidy), but also the climax to the end of the traditional pioneer period.

These are but six of the many good causes in which we should all "be anxiously engaged." If your chapter is not currently "engaged" in a meaningful memorial project, please suggest one to your chapter officers. Additional suggestions for chapter projects may be obtained by contacting Brother M. Elmer Christensen, Chairman of our Pioneer Trails and Landmarks Committee.

Finally, we should be constantly reminded of the great promise extended to all "anxiously engaged in a good cause." This promise also comes from the Doctrine and Covenants, 58:29-29:

"For the power is in them, wherein they are agents unto themselves. And inasmuch as men do good they shall in no wise lose their reward.

But he that doeth not anything until he is commanded... the same is damned."

SUP Library Sets Opening May 3rd

By Arlene Grover
Librarian

Preparations are being made to open the library at the new Sons of Utah Pioneers building on a regular basis. Beginning May 3, the library will be open on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 1-5 p.m.

The library will not attempt to duplicate the services of other libraries in the city, for it does not have the resources, but it is interested in gathering as much material as possible about the early pioneers of Utah.

REQUESTS FAMILY HISTORIES

We are especially anxious to get all the family histories, biographical sketches and town and ward histories that are available. The material will be indexed as fast as possible so that the information is easily accessible.

The library is not a museum, for we have no facilities for preserving or displaying artifacts. Members who have valuable relics of pioneer times should consider donating them to the LDS Church Museum which will soon be housed in a new building being constructed for that specific purpose. If artifacts are not Church-related, the Utah State Historical Society is interested in all phases of Utah history.

It is hoped that with the cooperation of the members of Sons of Utah Pioneers, the library can provide a needed service for people who want to learn more about the early settlers of the state, their accomplishments and their families.

San Diego Fete Recalls 1847 Battalion Event

by Marvin E. Smith

Thirty Utahns including Elder L. Tom Perry, a member of the Council of Twelve, National SUP President William J. Critchlow III and Col. Elmer B. Jones, C.O. of the USMB flew to San Diego to attend the annual Mormon Battalion memorial service which was held at Heritage Park on January 30, 1982. The occasion commemorated the arrival of the original Battalion January 29, 1847 during the Mexican War.

The group who gathered that morning at the site of the old court house heard Elder Sherwood Clow give historical data. A Marine Corps band provided music and a Navy drill team raised the colors. The reenactment of the change of command in 1847 was performed by the Navy and Marines turning over the military authority to the leader of the US Mormon Battalion.

The afternoon session was conducted by Elder Ken Wiseman, a former national president of SUP and now a missionary at the San Diego LDS Visitors Center. Speakers were Major George Bascom, Col. Elmer Jones and San Diego's major, Pete Wilson.

TRAVELING BY RV CARAVAN TO THE MESA ENCAMPMENT?

If you are planning to travel to the 1982 Annual Encampment by camper, travel trailer or motorhome and if you would like to "caravan", it is suggested you write the National SUP Headquarters immediately.

Give your name, address and telephone number. SUP Headquarters will attempt to help arrange caravan groups from various locations. "Caravaning" will provide a safer and more pleasant journey for SUP and RV'ers.

We have been assured of adequate and suitable space for camping near the encampment activities, even though you may not be able to stay through the winter.

Please write your comments and ideas to:

National Society, Sons of Utah Pioneers

Salt Lake City, Utah 84109

Following a quartet number, Elder L. Tom Perry spoke to the large crowd assembled in the sunshine at Heritage Park.

FORM NEW DIVISION

A reorganization meeting was held the previous evening by the San Diego Battalion descendants, under the direction of Col. Jones. Because the group had expanded to three companies, they were eligible for the creation of the California South Division.

The new Division officers sustained included: Lt. Col. Keith A. Sears, C.O.; Major George R. Bascom, Executive officer; Capt. Robert S. Wilkinson, adjutant and 1st Lt. Averill A. Pugmire, chaplain.

Division Auxiliary officers included: Major Marjorie Sienbenthal, C.O.; 1st Lt. Clydean Stenger, finance; Leonora Bascom, enlistment; Mary Willardson, historian; and Eleanor L. McVea as chaplain.

Some other Utah missionaries at the Mormon Battalion Visitors Center besides Ken and Min Wiseman include Vaughn and Gwen Wimmer, the Grant Thorns, the Squires, Moons and Bro. and Sis. McVea.

MORMON BATTALION SURVIVORS IDENTIFIED

A Farmington, Utah researcher has supplied names for all 24 persons in an historic photograph of the Mormon Battalion, which was published in the last issue of The Pioneer.

The picture was made in 1897 during the 50th Anniversary celebration of the mustering of the Mormon Battalion by the United States government during the war with Mexico.

Noel R. Barton spent more than a year tracking down their identities. Working with lists of the known survivors, he contacted many of their descendants. He is writing an article based on his research.

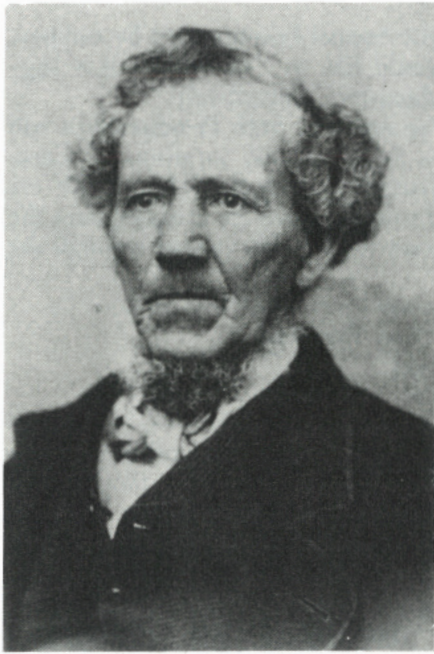

Readers were requested to send in the names of individuals they could positively identify. Those received are being checked against Barton's list, which appears here the photographs outlines.

PHINEAS HOWE YOUNG

Brigham's Big Brother Also A Valiant Pioneer

PHINEAS H. YOUNG
Mormon read by Brigham Young*

by Ronald G. Watt
City Creek Chapter

Phineas Howe Young was born February 16, 1799 in Hopkinton, Middlesex, Massachusetts. He was the eighth child of John Young and Abigail Howe who altogether had eleven children. His younger brother was Brigham.

The family was poor and the large family caused the parents to seek more and better land. They moved first to Wittingham, Vermont, in 1801 and then four years later to Auburn, New York. The family suffered greatly in Auburn and father John Young was away from home a great deal because of his employment.

In 1815, Abigail, mother of the family, died, and his father moved shortly thereafter to Mendon in Upper New York.

Phineas and Brigham came from a deeply religious family. The family spent a goodly amount of time reading the Bible. Phineas was greatly affected by the religious revivalism of the time. In northern New York, he became an itinerant preacher for the Methodist Reformed Church.

PURCHASED BOOK OF MORMON

In 1830, he bought a Book of Mormon from Samuel Smith. He read it expecting to find errors; instead, he found a new faith. He gave it to his father, who said after reading it that "it was the greatest work and clearest of error of anything he had ever seen, the Bible not excepted". His father gave it to Brigham. Phineas states that "About this time my brother, Brigham came to see me, and very soon told me that he was convinced that there was something in Mormonism."

In 1831, five elders came to the home of Phineas Young, then residing in Victor, and convinced the family members to further investigate this new religion. The next January, Phineas, Brigham and Heber C. Kimball went to Columbia, Pennsylvania to visit a small branch of the Church. Brigham said, "We traveled through snow and ice, crossing rivers until we were almost discouraged; still our faith was to learn more the principles of Mormonism." They attended the meetings and talked with members while staying about a week. By the time they returned home they were convinced that they had found the truth.

A few months later, Phineas took his brother, Joseph, and their father to the Columbia Branch. Before they left, all three were baptized into their newfound faith. Phineas said they started for home, "where we arrived in health and found our friends and families rejoicing in the fulness of the Gospel."

Phineas soon moved with his family to Kirtland, Ohio. In Kirtland, his first wife died and he married Lucy Cowdery, the sister of Oliver Cowdery. When the prophet Joseph Smith left Kirtland, Phineas moved his family to Missouri. He spent only a brief time there before the Saints were driven out of the state and Phineas took his family to Illinois.

From the time of his conversion until he left for Great Britain, he served on seven short-term missions lasting from six weeks to over a year in length.

CONCERN FOR COWDERY

During those years his greatest accomplishment was bringing his brother-in-law back to the Gospel. In 1838, Oliver Cowdery left Missouri and the Church and returned to Ohio, where he became a lawyer in Tiffin, Ohio. He completely disassociated himself from his old friends. Although Oliver became a member of the local Methodist Church, he never denounced the Restored Church. He also never published anything against the Church.

Because of his missionary work, Phineas traveled through Ohio several times and he sometimes stopped and visited with the Cowderys. Oliver had a good law practice, but was hampered because of his former association with the LDS Church. Opposing lawyers delighted in baiting him with that fact. Phineas encouraged him to come to Nauvoo where he could practice law. This invitation interested Oliver, in a letter he asked Phineas how many lawyers there were in Nauvoo.

By 1845, Oliver was definitely thinking of returning to the Church. In 1846 he wrote a reflective letter to Phineas. He wondered how others would perceive his character. He said,

"I have been sensitive on this subject, I admit, but I ought to be so, you would be under the circumstances, had you stood in the presence of John with our departed Brother Joseph, to receive the Lesser Priesthood, and in the presence of Peter, to receive the Greater, and looked down through time, and witness the effects these two must produce."

Oliver was rebaptized in October, 1848. His re-conversion is credited to Phineas Young.

JOINS FIRST COMPANY

In 1847, Phineas was with the first pioneer company to reach Salt Lake Valley. He arrived in the Salt Lake Valley after the main company because he spent several days ferrying the wagons across the Green River, a service for which he volunteered. He returned with Brigham Young to Winter Quarters that Fall.

When he returned to Salt Lake Valley he built a cabin on first south between second and third east. Later, he built a two-story adobe house with an upper and lower veranda. Phineas served as a legislator in the territorial legislature. In 1853, he became a counselor to the President of the Salt Lake Stake. He remained in that position until he went on a mission to Great Britain in 1856. In 1864 he was made the bishop of the Second Ward where he served until 1871.

BUILDING THE RAILROAD

While he was bishop the railroad came into Utah. The Union Pacific line went through Ogden. In order to bring this important means of transportation to Salt Lake City, President Young contracted to build the Utah Central Railroad. Each ward was assigned a certain segment to construct. Phineas' ward built a mile of railroad in the canyon. The ground was marshy and the creek bed got in their way. In order to finish their job they dug a new channel for the creek 340 feet long.

Arizona, Utah Entries Sought For Pioneer Story Contest

True stories about the experiences of early western pioneers are being sought in the annual Pioneer Story Contest sponsored by the Sons of Utah Pioneers, directed this year by Dr. Oliver R. Smith, Provo.

In recognition of the national encampment of the Society which will be held for the first time in Arizona next fall, the 1982 contest will include two special divisions for stories about pioneers in that territory. They are the youth division, for writers 18 and under, and the senior division, for those over 18.

Similar divisions are included for stories about pioneers in Utah and other areas of the Great Basin. Entries in both youth divisions must list the age and parents of the writer.

Handsome plaque awards are offered for the entries judged the best in each of the four divisions, according to John J. Nielsen, executive secretary of the society. Top stories also will be considered for publication in the SUP bi-monthly magazine, "The Pioneer."

Each entry must be an original, unpublished story or sketch about a

He died on October 10, 1879 at the age of 81. His daughter, Celestia, wrote in describing him:

"He was 5 feet 10 inches and weighed 170 pounds. He had hazel eyes and brown wavy hair. He loved his fellow man and especially loved children. He was proud of his brothers Joseph, Brigham, and Lorenzo. He was a jovial man and had a sarcastic wit. He was known for his charity. Whenever there was someone in need Phineas was ready to give help, comfort, and worldly goods."

man, woman, or child who came to Utah before the completion of the transcontinental railroad on May 10, 1869, or who was born in the territory before that date. It should be typewritten double-spaced, and not exceed 1,500 words in length, exclusive of source citations.

"The purpose of the contest is to encourage the researching and writing about the achievements of those who helped build the pioneer communities of Utah and surrounding states," Mr. Nielsen said. "Utah pioneers settled also in Arizona, Nevada, California, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Canada, and Mexico."

Entries should be mailed by Aug. 15 to the SUP headquarters, 3301 East 2920 South, Salt Lake City, Utah 84109, or they may be submitted through local chapters of the society. They will become part of the pioneer history collection in the new library at the headquarters building.

Contest winners will be announced and awards presented at the SUP national encampment to be held Oct. 21-23 in Mesa, Ariz.

Temple Quarry Meets Monthly

The Temple Quarry Chapter held their first meeting after the division of the Chapter on January 14th at the Bicentennial Park building in Sandy. A pot luck dinner was attended by 74 people.

The chapter newly formed from Temple Quarry will be known as the Jordan River Temple Chapter.

J.C. Richards, chaplain, conducted the meeting. President George Krebs presented the following chapter goals: twenty-five new members, sponsor two new chapters, reports on ancestors and memorialize their names, 10 life members and work on historical sites and markers.

To help further a goal of friendliness, a new program has been started. Each officer and his wife will have two or three member couples to help plan the program for an evening at least one time during the year.

Glen Greenwood, trek master, presented the history of Parley's Canyon. He also outlined the proposed trek program for the year, giving members their choices of the treks. Information was also given by Glen on the Encampment to be held in Mesa, Arizona on Oct. 21, 22 and 23. This trip will be extended to other points of interest.

An outstanding musical program was presented by the Sego Lily Chapter of the Sweet Adelines.

A membership certificate was presented to Charles Pitts.

FEBRUARY MEETING

The February meeting was also held at the Bicentennial Park Building on the 11th. Clyde Beckstead, Vice President, conducted the meeting with President George Krebs presiding. Pres. Krebs presented memberships to Clyde Beckstead, C.H. Margetts, J.C. Richards, Mark Bishop, William Mayne, Verne Hunter, Gene Newbold, Eugene Weber and

It was announced that our former Secretary, Jerome Tullis and his wife, Barbara, have been called on a mission to Mississippi.

There were 75 in attendance for the potluck dinner and a very interesting program of slides and narration presented by Clayton and Sharon Green on their trip to Israel.

Open House for Earl A. Hansen On 80th Birthday

JACOB HAMBLIN

By J. Morris Richards
Past-President Salt River Chapter

First settlement in Arizona by people known to be Mormons was not initiated by leaders of the church but consisted of a small group of Saints enroute from the Southern States to California by way of southern Arizona. They stopped temporarily at Tubac, a Mexican settlement on the Santa Cruz River in late 1851 and were persuaded by the commandant of the Mexican garrison to remain. He promised rich farmland, already-made ditches, and protection of his troops against the Apaches.

They planted their seeds, prepared for a bounteous harvest — but no rains came that winter and early spring. They waited and prayed in vain. Then, in May 1852, with the barest of subsistence means, made their way into California where they were met by Commissioner John R. Bartlett of the International Boundary Survey, who made a record of their unsuccessful undertaking.

JACOB HAMBLIN VISITS

Jacob Hamblin was the first Mormon to make inroads into Arizona thereafter. He came, however, some ten years after the Mormon Battalion crossed Arizona by way of Tucson and Yuma on its way to California in 1846-1847. The story of the Mormon Battalion has little to do with settlement of Arizona, except that some 33 members of that military force were known to have returned to some part of Arizona in the later colonization attempts.

Jacob Hamblin was sent into Arizona by Brigham Young in 1858 to investigate a legend that the Hopi Indians may have ancestral ties in Wales, there having been a report that there were similarities in the languages of the Welsh and the Hopis. No real similarities were found between the languages, but a short time later Hamblin led a party of 12 plus a guide into the Hopi Country and left three of the party as missionaries, but for the next 20 years there was little success in that direction.

Early Mormon Visitors Have Roles in Arizona's History

HAIGHT PARTY FAILS

A party of colonists was sent by Brigham Young into the same area and along the Little Colorado River a bit to the south in March 1873, but it encountered violent windstorms, muddy water and difficult traveling, with no evidence that the area would sustain permanent settlement. This was known as the Horton D. Haight party, and all members returned to their Utah homes.

In January 1876 Brigham Young called 200 families from various parts of Utah to form four companies and make settlements on the Little Colorado River. These were under the direction of four captains — Lot Smith at Sunset, William C. Allen at St. Joseph (Joseph City), George Lake at Obed and Jesse O. Ballenger at Brigham City. Only one of the four settlements remains (Joseph City), the others succumbing to bad soil, droughts and sudden floods, and the attraction of better sites elsewhere. These four, plus Snowflake, St. Johns and Savoia, N.M., were the nucleus for the first Arizona Stake of the Church, with Lot Smith as president and Jacob Hamblin as one of his counselors.

Before 1880, with the Little Colorado settlements as way-shops, settlements were made in several parts of what is now Navajo and Apache Counties, the upper Gila River where Safford, Thatcher and their satellites are now located, and particularly in Salt River Valley at Lehi and Mesa.

FARM SETTLEMENTS

Most Mormon settlements before 1900 were in small valleys and or mountain parks where a subsistence could be obtained from the soil, and where wards and branches of the Mormon Church would be established and substantial families raised in semi-isolation from the "outside world."

Some of these settlements were Nutrioso and Amity in Round Valley; Show Low, Forestdale, Adair, Lakeside, Heber and Taylor in Navajo County; Lehi and Tempe, in addition to Mesa, on the Salt River in central Arizona; St. David on the San Pedro River near the route of the Mormon Battalion; and some isolated points such as Pine Creek, in the Verde River watershed.

By 1855 there were stakes of the Church in the Little Colorado Valley, in the Salt River Valley and in the Gila Valley, despite persecution of many of the leaders for their practice of plural marriage.

AFTER STATEHOOD

After Arizona became a state in 1912, and there was a general influx of population, the Mormons took their place as an important segment and had a hand in the affairs of government, though a minority.

In 1927 the Arizona Temple was dedicated, and soon afterwards the church began to grow rapidly in Phoenix and other parts of Salt River Valley. Soon there were branches, wards and stakes in many places, until at present (1982) the strength of Mormonism in Arizona is felt in many aspects of life.

Mormon Pioneer Party Starts Settling Salt River Valley

Editor's Note: Anticipating the 1982 Encampment in Mesa, Arizona, the history of the area will be presented in this and future issues.

by Spencer D. Madsen

The Mormon Battalion crossed Arizona territory in 1846-47 through the areas near Douglas and Bisbee along the Mexican Border, along the San Pedro River near St. David, Benson and southern Tucson, and along the Gila River near Gila Bend and on to Yuma. All were later considered as favorable areas for pioneer settlements.

Many Mormon missionaries had also passed through the Salt River Valley area and into Mexico, establishing friendly relationships with many of the Indian tribes.

From all of these reports, church leaders were convinced that Arizona and Mexico were choice locations for the establishment of new pioneer colonies.

DAN JONES CALLED

Late in 1876, the First Presidency called Daniel W. Jones, who had been a missionary in Arizona to lead a colonizing party to Mexico. He suggested they select someone else and he would go along as a guide. He feared that his mannerisms and hasty decisions would create problems.

President Young felt that Brother Jones' missionary travels through the area and his understanding of the Spanish language made him the best man for the assignment. Therefore, he was assigned to lead a group to Mexico, with instructions that if they found a more suitable location on their journey, they could establish a colony.

Brother Jones organized his party in St. George, Utah and they began their journey late in January, 1877. They traveled through Santa Clara, passed Beaver Dam and followed the Virgin River to Bunkerville where they established a rest stop, enjoying the hospitality of the Mormon settlement there.

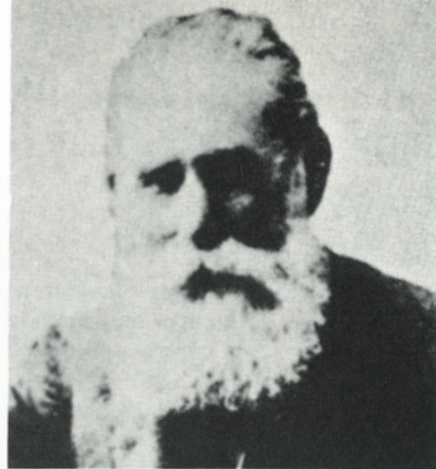

About six miles from the mouth of the Virgin River they crossed the Colorado River at Stone's Ferry, continuing across the flat plateaus and plains through the Mineral Park's Mining community and to Canyon Station, where they entered onto a toll road known as the Fort Mohave-Prescott Road. This road was sixty miles long ending at the early Arizona Territorial Capital.

The company visited briefly in this city then continued southward through Peoples Valley to Wickenburg. From there they followed the Hassayampa River to the flat plain leading to the community of Phoenix, arriving in March. Jones followed the Ft. McDowell Road on the north side of the Salt River rather than to cross the river at Hayden's Ferry site of Temple.

DECIDE TO STOP

The air was crisp and a breeze was blowing through the bushes and cottonwood trees along the narrow road. The oxen and horses were gaunt and tired as they drew the fifteen wagons along. The group were weary and they decided to attempt a settlement on the flat lands of the Salt River rather than to push on into Mexico. The long journey had used up most of their resources and another month or two of travel was not felt to be wise.

They saw a cottonwood grove on the south side of the river, crossed the river and established their camp. The leaders of the group looked over the rich bottom lands of the river and knew it could be irrigated from a canal originating from the point of their camp. The next day many of the party began work on the "Utah Ditch". Other heads of families looked over the nearby land. Each adult member of the families would be assigned a quarter section of land. Twenty-five quarter sections were established with each quarter section to have one share in the planned canal.

Following the pattern of pioneer villages in Utah, a central site was selected for homes. They would live under the United Order, all would work for the common good of the whole group and all would receive from the central storehouse their needs. In the beginning a common dining area was maintained with the girls and women taking turns in preparing and serving the meals. The village center would be established at the four quarter sections claimed by Daniel Jones, Philomen Merrill, Thomas Biggs and Henry Rogers.

The village would be built around a public square with the four side streets running towards the points of the compass. Main Street would run north and South. The village was to be one mile square. By July 1877, a fort-like structure was completed including a rough brush shed used for a common meeting place and for religious worship. The fort structure was about fifty by seventy-five feet, surrounded by a seven foot adobe wall.

The next installment, continuing the story of the Lehi Settlement and the arrival of the Mesa Company, will appear in the next issue.

EMC Mills Gets Lively Start In First Year

LaMar Gardner is a member of SUP whose influence has already been felt by four chapters in Utah and Idaho, and now serves as president of the newly formed East Mill Creek Mills Chapter. Even when the Gardners were called on a mission to Idaho, SUP was not far from their thoughts.

On the completion of their Mission, before leaving Idaho Falls, he promoted the "Eagle Rock" SUP Chapter. On returning to activity with the good friends in the EMC Chapter, he found great activity but no room to expand. Gardner was asked to help start a new Chapter.

Ed Jackson wanted to start a chapter in the Mt. Olympus stakes. They held planning meetings and then met with Jack Nielsen and the stake presidents. In March, two new chapters held their first dinner meetings.

Ed Jackson became the first president of the "Olympus Hills Chapter" and Lorenzo Bates the original president of the E.M.C. Mills Chapter, with LaMar Gardner as president-elect for 82.

"Mills" was selected because of the history of 20 mills that were built by pioneers on Mill Creek. From March through December, 10 Dinner Meetings were held with average attendance of 78. One was a pot-luck dinner at the Woody Caldwell home. The charter dinner was at the Roland Bain Lodge below Brighton.

EMC REUNIONS

LaMar Gardner was the president of the EMC Chapter of 1967 and noted that the East Mill Creek Ward was organized July 15, 1967. He planned an EMC Reunion in harmony with Pioneer Days with the hope of continuing as an ongoing project at 5 yr. intervals. In 1977, the 100th anniversary of the Ward was celebrated with a catered dinner.

Our Mills Chapter will sponsor another in this series on July 12, 1982, thru the afternoon and evening at the SUP National Headquarters. Roland Bain has been appointed Program Chairman.

ENCAMPMENT BUS

The chapter plans for a bus load of members to attend the 1982 Encampment in Mesa, Arizona.

Present officers include: LaMar Gardner, president; past president, Lorenzo Bates; president elect, Mark Reeve; vice president, Pershing James; sec. & treas., Steven Neff.

Directors are: Joel Anderson, Gordon Crandall, William Callister, and Herbert Wheeler.

History through art...

Orrin Porter Rockwell and Miles Goodyear in Weber Canyon 1847 — Oil Painting by Dale Bryner

...FROM THE BICENTENNIAL HISTORICAL ART COLLECTION, WEBER STATE COLLEGE

Mormon folklore suggests that after Porter Rockwell had been led down Weber Canyon by the mountain man Miles Goodyear, Rockwell exclaimed, "It's no use, Miles. The Old Boss would never take wagons over such a damned trail." Consequently, Immigration Canyon became the Mormon Pioneer Trail into the Salt Lake Valley.

The Weber State College Bicentennial Historical Art Collection is comprised of over 60 original paintings by 23 prominent Utah artists to preserve in visual art form a measure of Utah's history. The collection is on permanent display in the Stewart Library of Weber State College, Ogden, Utah.

...a leader in the support of art and history of the state.
